Al Baldwin is Chairman of the Board of Baldwin & Sons. He has been in the real estate development and home building business for 60+ years, and has built more than 20,000 homes. Baldwin & Sons, Pacific Coast Communities, Heritage Building & Development, and Sunrise Company are owned and operated by Al Baldwin, his three sons, and his son-in-law. Their most recent community is Otay Ranch in San Diego, which will contain 10,000 homes upon its completion. In 2016, we celebrated the grand opening of The Oaks in Portola Hills, located in Lake Forest. This newest community will be comprised of 304 distinct luxury homes. Their communities have proven to be not only highly successful with the public, but extremely well-received within the professional community as well, receiving numerous awards and recognition.

Baldwin is actively involved in the community, and has served on numerous boards and charitable foundations, including chairman and board member of Futures for Children, treasurer and board member for the Orange County Performing Arts Center and president of the City of Hope Construction Industry Alliance. He was also a partner in the San Diego Padres. He continues to serve on the board of the Stars and Stripes Fishing, Golf and Music Festival since its inception 22 years ago. He is past chairman of the National Park Foundation Board and is currently serving on its board; he is also chairman of the National Park Foundation's $500 million Centennial Campaign.

Baldwin has received numerous personal recognition and commendations, including Los Angeles County Boy Scouts of America - Distinguished Citizen Award; Construction Industry Alliance City of Hope - Spirit of Life Award; Catholic Charities - Diocese of Orange Mardi Gras, Honorees; American Jewish Committee - National Human Relations Award; and Anti-Defamation League - Distinguished Community Service Award; and National Association of Homebuilders Legend Award. Recently, he was awarded the City of Chula Vista's Man of the Year and the Orange County Business Journal honored Baldwin & Sons as a Family-Owned Business Award winner in 2017. Baldwin's proudest accomplishment is his family; his wife of 54 years, Deeann; and their four children and 13 grandchildren.
