PURPOSE, PRIDE AND DIGNITY.

These three words exemplify what we as an organization are all about. They are the foundation our mission was built on over 95 years ago—helping people who are facing barriers find and keep jobs, which provides purpose, pride and dignity.

When an individual with a physical disability is given his or her first chance to thrive in the workplace. When a mother earns a paycheck to provide for her family. When a veteran seamlessly transitions from the military into meaningful employment.

That's purpose, pride and dignity in action. And we are so fortunate to play a role in so many stories like this each and every day. You can be part of changing lives by making a financial investment in Goodwill's mission. Help us continue to expand the programs that will benefit even more individuals right here in Orange County.

The Webster

Thank you!

Second Harvest Food Bank congratulates Harvesters on another successful Fashion Show & Luncheon. We are deeply grateful for the time, talent and countless hours that Harvesters and their partner, South Coast Plaza, dedicate to making this the "must-attend" event of the season.

About the Event

On October 2, Harvesters presented the season's most fashionable styles at the 27th Annual Fashion Show & Luncheon. The event, co-chaired by Laura Baratta, Gail Haft and Jodi Salerno, drew more than 400 luncheon guests who sipped champagne at the premium silent action. A stunning runway show curated and produced by South Coast Plaza, the international luxury shopping destination, followed. It featured highlights from the fall/winter collections of iconic designer brands.

The Impact

The event netted more than $1 million, or more than 10% of Second Harvest's annual revenue. The funds will have a significant impact, helping us deliver the equivalent of more than 3 million meals for hungry children, working families and seniors through our network of 312 nonprofit partners, including churches, schools, senior centers, transitional housing facilities, soup kitchens and homeless shelters.

One in six children will go without food this month.

The Need

In Orange County, the exceptionally high cost of housing creates sometimes insurmountable challenges for the working poor, veterans, seniors on fixed incomes and those with disabilities. Our at-risk community includes:

- More than 290,000 food-insecure people
- One in six children who will go without food this month
- Seniors, more than 45% of whom can't afford basic necessities

The Goal

Second Harvest Food Bank, with its 312 nonprofit partners, works tirelessly to provide nutritious, healthy food for those in need. We are working on innovative solutions to eliminate the root causes of hunger and poverty, creating a community where all our children will thrive.
