The Sage Hill Difference

Sage Hill School offers a dynamic, college-preparatory curriculum for grades 9-12 designed to inspire independent, creative and critical thinking. An average class size of 14 enables our students to nurture relationships with motivated peers and our world-class, dedicated faculty. Outside the classroom, students participate in athletics, explore artistic abilities and engage in the world beyond campus through service to the community, internships and educational travel.

Sage Hill's beautiful facilities, including the 30,000-square foot arts Studio at Sage Hill, 13,000 square-foot Lisa Argyros and Family Science Center and newly renovated Johnson Family Library, allow space for innovative and collaborative education that is tailored to the needs of each student.

In the 2020-2021 school year, students plan to make use of the expansive campus with socially distanced classrooms, designated spaces for socially distanced dining and studying, and rigorous health and safety protocols. While in-person learning is Sage Hill's preferred modality – and the campus will be able to welcome ALL enrolled students for socially distanced instruction each day – the School has invested in state-of-the-art academic technology and professional training in cutting-edge distance learning practices for all faculty, so that families may opt to continue distance learning even after classes resume on campus this semester.

Whether meeting in person or at a distance, Sage Hill School is committed to creating a learning environment that promotes the physical, social, and emotional safety and wellness of our students. “All Lions, All Day”

TVT Students Attend Classes 5 Full Days a Week on Campus with Robust COVID-19 Protocols

TVT Community Day School in Irvine is living up to its ranking as the #1 K-12 Independent School in Orange County and #1 Jewish School in America with its seamless implementation of the “All Lions, All Day” plan for a top-rated and safe on-campus instructional program for the 2020-21 school year. The plan places a priority on Covid-19 health and safety protocols while allowing for a full day, everyday instruction.

COVID-19 has presented a unique roadblock to the education system. The call for social distancing made traditional classrooms no longer an option last Spring. While many schools struggled with this new normal, TVT Community Day School set the standard for quality distance learning. Within days of announcing their campus was closing to on-site learning, TVT implemented a seamless transition for over 625 students to distance learning.

TVT’s “All Lions, All Day” plan has provided a robust foundation for safe and effective onsite learning. TVT students were able to return to campus beginning June 29 for a 6-week summer program, without incidents.

Dr. Jeffrey Davis, TVT’s Head of School, says TVT has developed this robust and innovative plan to allow for a full return to campus in the most safe way possible. “Government agencies are struggling to keep pace with the Covid-19 crisis. Knowing this, we decided to create a team of medical and health advisors of some of the best and most respected medical and science research people in California,” he said. “We have worked closely with them to establish the health and safety protocols that will allow our students to be among the first to return to full-time on campus learning in a safe and healthy environment”.

With input from the team of medical and health advisors, TVT has focused their plan on four pillars: Screening, Social Distancing, Masks, and Health & Hygiene. These pillars create the foundation of TVT’s “All Lions, All Day” plan to keep the TVT community healthy and safe. You can read more about this plan at TARBUT.com/AllLions

Founded in 1991, TVT Community Day School is an inclusive Jewish school of inquiry and innovation where academics are important and character is paramount. TVT is open to students of all faiths.

Celebrating 70 Years of Excellence in Education

We ARE MD. For over 70 years, Mater Dei has been the heart of academic excellence in Orange County. With a focus on the holistic development of each and every student, we encourage students to dream big and realize opportunities they might not imagine. Our students come from every city in Orange County bringing a variety of gifts and talents to a large school with a small school atmosphere. Just as a family cares for each individual, so does Mater Dei. When young people and their parents get to know the Mater Dei family, they want to become a part of it.

Our students are driven to be successful and balance their commitment to academic rigor while immersing themselves in all that Mater Dei has to offer them as intellectuals, leaders, artists, athletes, and more. More than 95% of the student body participates in at least one co-curricular or extra-curricular program and 60% of students take honors and advanced placement courses. 68% of the student body participates in athletics while 70% are a part of clubs and 48% are a part of performing arts.

Mater Dei alumni exhibit confidence, integrity, humility, responsibility, and a commitment to servant leadership. While high school graduation rates in inner cities continue to decline, Mater Dei remains steadfast in exceeding national, state, and county high school graduation rates. Beyond graduation, 99-100 percent of our students continue on to college. Our graduates have raised the bar through their acceptance to some of the nation's most highly competitive collegiate institutions.

Become part of the TRADITION! Applications available now at www.mater-dei.org/admissions.

Mater Dei High School

A TRADITION IN ACADEMIC EXCELLENCE SINCE 1950

Did you know that Mater Dei is proud to offer a robust STEM program to our students? Students interested in the medical field, engineering, computer programming, animal science, forensics, as well as any general interest in Biology, Chemistry, or Physics, will find specially tailored pathways and assistance in further customizing their STEM experience to their unique interests and needs through our Science Department. Students looking to specialize in STEM will take a Science and Math course, as well as a STEM elective in engineering, coding, or Computer Science throughout all four years.
