Dear Readers,

The interest in philanthropic giving is growing everywhere. It’s no surprise that we have seen tremendous support from community-minded, local businesses underwriting the nonprofits in this new edition of the Orange County Business Journal’s Giving Guide. This year, 41% of the nonprofits in this guide received underwriting support. The variety of possible approaches in philanthropy makes it quite complex, which is why the Giving Guide is an important resource. It features 66 nonprofit spreads, detailing each organization’s mission statement, service area, goals, board members, fundraising events and giving/volunteering opportunities – providing all of the information you’ll need to make your giving and volunteering decisions. In addition, you’ll find lists ranking the largest nonprofits, corporate foundations and private foundations in Orange County, along with articles that offer insight for your giving strategies and corporate community engagement plans.

Thank you to our amazing team: Julie Vo, for editing it’s content; and Rich Loyd, Martin Nilschian, Brentt Miter and Tanya Halata, for graphic design. Thank you to our publication sponsors – Association of Fundraising Professionals Orange County Chapter, Irvine Company Resort Properties, SingerLewak and Union Bank, as well as all of the underwriters of individual nonprofits featured in the Giving Guide.

I am very proud to be part of such a giving and supportive community. I hope the Giving Guide will inspire you to underwrite your favorite charity next year, so that they can reach potential donors and sponsors, and grow awareness and outreach in our community.

With sincere appreciation,

Amy Sfredo

Joining Forces for Good: How Innovation Fuels OC Giving
by Shelley Hoss, President, Orange County Community Foundation

The qualities that define Orange County’s entrepreneurial economy – innovation and creativity – are also driving a new approach to philanthropy among the next generation of givers. Three recent collaborative efforts at the Orange County Community Foundation (OCCF) exemplify this trend, pairing a high level of engagement with a laser focus on impact.

“I believe there’s a growing wave of next-generation philanthropists who are driven by improving outcomes and don’t want to feel tied down to conventional models,” says entrepreneur and philanthropist Katie Kalvoda. She’s on a mission to discover the next big thing in philanthropy: “We invest in people and believe that human ingenuity can be applied to the nonprofit world with as much vigor as it is applied in the for-profit world.”

Philanthropists Want Opportunities to Invest in Causes. In her search for innovations in philanthropy, Kalvoda turned to OCCF to assemble a brain trust of inspired, emerging donors to create a laboratory for philanthropic exploration. The result? The Innovative Philanthropy group, which is designed to navigate less traditional, high-impact philanthropic investments. Their last meeting challenged members to rethink water and featured a social entrepreneur who invented a “hydrapanel,” a device that makes drinking water from sunlight and air. Kalvoda envisioned the group as an ideal platform for people with big ideas to actively engage in philanthropy in ways that are meaningful to them and potentially groundbreaking for Orange County.

Women Give Together for Impact. Like Kalvoda, Vicki Booth also wanted to consider untapped potential in philanthropy. She zeroed in on the key role women play in financial decisions for their families, including their philanthropic investments. Booth launched the new Women’s Giving Group to address this trend, building a forum for women to engage in collective exploration of giving and provide them a place to act and create impact. From learning together to sharing ideas to pooling resources, it’s all coming alive in this new group.

Next-Generation Leaders Are Tackling Social Issues. When it comes to philanthropists who are ready, willing and excited to interject fresh perspectives into giving and champion the changes they want to see in Orange County and beyond, look to the members of OCCF’s Impact Philanthropy group, founded by professionals and emerging leaders in Orange County seeking original approaches to social impact. Over the past eight years, the Impact Philanthropy Group has awarded nearly $320,000 in grants to 35 local nonprofits.

Shelley Ross
Since May 2000, Shelley Hoss has served as president of one of Orange County’s most prominent philanthropic organizations, the Orange County Community Foundation. The mission of OCCF is to inspire a passion for lifelong philanthropy, faithfully steward donations, and catalyze sustainable community impact.
Many nonprofits rely on annual special events as a significant source of revenue. However, accounting for these events can often be challenging. Events may include gala dinners, golf tournaments, marathons, concerts, carnivals, sports events, auctions, casino nights, and similar events.

When nonprofits have special events that are in part fundraising activities and in part exchange transactions, such as fundraising dinners, the ticket revenue from such events are divided between contributions and revenue from exchange transactions for financial reporting purposes. The exchange transaction is measured at fair value of the direct donor benefits, and the excess of the ticket price over the fair value of the direct donor benefits is the contribution portion.

In order to properly report on the activities of these events, a number of transactions need to be considered:

Revenues:
- Number of tickets sold at the price paid by the donor. For example: The nonprofit holds a gala and patrons pay $300 to attend the dinner and 300 tickets have been sold. If nothing is given to the donor in return, you would simply record revenue at $90,000 (300 tickets x $300.) However, the dinner costs the nonprofit $75 per person and has a fair value of $100 per person. Therefore, the contribution portion of the special event is $60,000 [300 tickets x ($300 - $100)] and the exchange portion is $30,000 (300 x $100).

Expenses:
- Using the example above, the Costs of Direct Benefits to Donors would be $22,500 ($75 x 300 attendees). It is important to keep in mind, for most events, calculating the Costs of Direct Benefits to Donors will include more than just the cost of the meal. The costs will also include the catering, entertainment, ballroom, decorations, meals and refreshments, etc.

In-kind Contributions:
- These are the common in-kind contributions made for special events and are frequently not recorded.

Auctioned Items:
- If an item is donated to the nonprofit and auctioned off, there will be two separate transactions. First, the nonprofit must first determine the fair value of the donated item and then record it as an asset and contribution revenue. Once the auction is over, an increase or decrease in the value of the contribution will be made depending on how much is received from the auctioned item.

Donated Services or Facilities:
- Services or facilities donated to an organization such as catering, event venue, entertainment or others which provide a direct benefit to the donor should be included as a contribution and expensed as Costs of Direct Benefits to Donors.

Items Provided to the Donor:
- Items donated to the nonprofit and provided to the various attendees of the event such as gift bags, raffle prizes or table goodies should be recorded as contribution revenue and the expensed as Costs of Direct Benefits to Donors.

What inspires you to give?

Rob and Jeff: We have been fortunate enough to live the American dream of entrepreneurship. It gives us so much fulfillment to be able to help children and young adults achieve their American dreams too. Sometimes kids just need someone to listen to them, believe in them, support them and give them the confidence to do anything they want to. Being that person to them is one of the most rewarding things we can do.

Jeff: My executive assistant, Tiffany Frederick, who helps manage so much of what I do, became a mentor through Big Brothers Big Sisters to a 14-year-old girl named Yuliana in June 2015. Shortly after, Rob and I met with her to share our stories and inspire her to follow her dreams of being an architect and engineer. Since that time, Tiffany has done the same, and has found creative ways to incorporate her role supporting me with her mentorship of Yuliana. They have toured the Google campus; visited UC Berkeley and the University of Chicago; taken road trips to Los Angeles and Las Vegas to attend motivational events, see amazing architecture and learn new things; and also participated in the College & Career Readiness Program at Ten-X. Having recently sent in applications to multiple colleges, Yuliana is now starting to get her acceptance letters, one of which is to Cal State Fullerton, where I was not accepted when I applied many years ago. You can only imagine what it was like to see someone that I helped mentor and support get accepted to the college that I didn’t. Wow, how sweet it is!

Faces of Philanthropy

What inspires you to give?

Carrying on a legacy of giving back. Our family has been engaged in the community for decades. It is important to continue to educate future generations on the importance of having empathy towards others less fortunate, of being selfless and giving their time to improve the lives of others. We personally support a wide variety of social, environmental and arts-based organizations. All are equally important in creating awareness, not just in our local community, but on a broader scale. The need is everywhere.

In our support of the Second Harvest Food Bank of Orange County, our volunteerism also includes the member agencies that the organization serves. One in particular is Someone Cares Soup Kitchen in Costa Mesa. For the last nine years, of the more than 30 years of support, we have involved our children as volunteers in serving those in need. It has been rewarding to be a part of the community in this way and having our children see firsthand the hardships in our local community. Over the years it has motivated them to be philanthropic and to think of other ways that they can be involved as young adults in developing programs that benefit the Soup Kitchen and other charitable causes.

What inspires you to give?

Not unlike our beneficiaries and employees, the Horowitz Group family office views Orange County as a stakeholder in our success. At the point in life when success makes giving back an option, philanthropic ventures can and should be sought out with a new sense of entrepreneurship and creativity. Drawing from childhood experiences, current mentors and the needs of our community, we have focused most of our efforts on kids. Access to opportunity through a solid education is the “civil rights issue” of our time, and children of all stripes and aptitudes deserve our greatest consideration in getting them the chance to realize their value in life.

Summarize a personal experience you’ve had working with a nonprofit that has had the greatest impact on you.

The greatest impact for me as a philanthropist has been with the MIND Research Institute, providing digital supplemental math instruction to more than a million kids over the last 15 years. Having been involved in experimental programs in math as a youth, I developed and employed matrix algebra effectively in high school, and then again in the fast-changing world of business and computing. We consider MIND to be our first philanthropic “home run.” The neuroscientists at MIND Research Institute have created highly effective non-language based math games for grade-school students. It is the interactive execution of these games that causes working memory neurons to grow and develop in the important spatial temporal area of the brain. We view this kind of learning as imperative to the long-term well-being of the community and its members. Most recently, the Horowitz Group has begun work with the Easterseals to create new opportunities for our disabled youth. We also want to applaud the great work of Hoag Hospital, especially the work that Irvine’s Marcy Brown has implemented with community organizations like United Cerebral Palsy.
What inspires your company to give?

I've always believed that it's important to give back to the communities that have given us opportunities. That's why in 2002, we at Golden State Foods created the GSF Foundation, with the mission of serving children and families in need, in the areas where GSF associates live and work. The GSF Foundation is funded and run by GSF associate volunteers, who dedicate their time and donate their own money, underscoring how much they truly care about helping others in need in their communities. I'm inspired by these dedicated associate volunteers throughout our company, who have helped raise nearly $40 million over the past 15 years and have donated hundreds of thousands of hours in volunteer service to support more than 600 charities and schools. As many as 80% of GSF associates actively support the foundation in 30 local committees across the U.S. I'm also inspired by our incredible beneficiaries who continue to dedicate so much of their time, energy and heart to help others in need.

Summarize a personal experience you've had working with a nonprofit that has had the greatest impact on you.

In 2003, I created The Simon Foundation for Education and Housing (SFEH), which supports the Simon Scholars Program. From the inception of the program, we have supported more than 1,000 underserved students. Hearing the awe-inspiring stories of these young adults who have graduated from the program, and are achieving the American dream is the greatest gift that I could receive. Furthermore, watching the involvement of my children and grandchildren managing the day-to-day operations of the Simon Scholars Program that their foundations support, and seeing how passionate they are about helping our scholars is very inspiring to me. It is inspirational to see how the scholars who have overcome so much adversity in their lives, have gone on to graduate college and become successful adults who are now helping to support the Simon Scholars Program, as well as make great contributions to our country. Seeing how successful the program has become makes it the best investment I have made.

What inspires you to give?

When I was just beginning my career, a very wise man told me that I would be successful if my achievements helped make the world a better place. Sharing my success with my community, and needy and deserving people is a way for me to accomplish that, especially helping to enable underserved students become successful in their lives and careers so that they can give back to their communities.

To the ones who raise expectations—work together with others to achieve new heights—and make our community a better place. Thank you to the hundreds of Orange County non-profit organizations and thousands of volunteers for their commitment and time to improve the lives of those less fortunate. By giving, caring and extending a helping hand, you are indeed great Orange County neighbors. We share your passion for giving back.

Note: The OC Giving Guide does not rank foundations by giving. Instead, the sorting is by named giving, for those that do not also provide OC giving in excess, because they don't count in annual giving geographic area.

This list is not comprehensive. While every effort is made in an effort to ensure the accuracy and thoroughness of the list, omissions and typographical errors sometimes occur. Unless otherwise noted, the information on this list was provided by the foundations themselves. It may not be reprinted without permission of the author.

TITANS AIM 130 MILLION LIGHT YEARS BEYOND.

Cal State Fullerton astrophysicist Jocelyn Read has her head in the stars. She led an international collaboration of scientists to decipher gravitational waves caused when binary neutron stars collide, revealing nuclear physics on an astronomical scale. Read’s one small step made a giant impact — redefining our known universe. The work of this Titan of discovery illuminates just one reason why CSUF has earned a stellar reputation.

Alzheimer’s is the third leading cause of death in Orange County.

Your support both provides the care families need, and drives local research for a cure.

Over 84,000 people in Orange County are battling Alzheimer’s today.

Although science is making promising advancements, these individuals and their families still need care in lieu of a treatment.

We provide professional and supervised social and health care day services for individuals with memory loss, giving them a safe place to spend their days while their loved ones earn a much-deserved break from caregiving duties.

We offer Day Care Scholarships ($95/day value). Contact us at 844-HELP-ALZ to learn more about how your donation can help a family in need.

We’re committed to advancing dementia science to find a treatment right here in Orange County.

In 2018, we pledge to deepen our commitment to educating the community about clinical trials and encouraging public participation in these areas.

Our new Research Fund will award grants to local scientists--not currently supported by pharmaceutical companies or the NIH--to advance their cutting-edge concepts. The Research Fund will also support clinical trial education.

SERVICE AREA

The American Red Cross Serving Orange County serves 34 cities and more than 3.1 million people throughout the Orange County region.

FAST FACTS

What is your Charity Navigator Rating (1 star – 4 stars)?

3 stars

What percentage of total revenue goes to cause (after operation expenses)?

When you donate to the Red Cross, your donation is used efficiently. An average of 91 cents of every dollar the American Red Cross spends is invested in humanitarian services and programs. Full financial reports and stewardship updates are available at redcross.org/publications.

AREAS OF FUNDING

There are a number of opportunities to partner with the American Red Cross Serving Orange County, including:

- Sponsorship of the annual Orange County Heroes Luncheon, which recognizes local heroes and community members whose actions embody the spirit and mission of the Red Cross.
- Providing help to local families during the annual Children’s Safety Festival.
- Strengthening community resilience through support of annual preparedness events and disaster readiness training programs.
- Employee engagement and/or corporate sponsorship of local Red Cross Home Fire Campaign and signature Sound the Alarm events.

- Through these events, we install free smoke alarms and provide fire safety information to residents in high-risk communities in order to decrease home fire-related deaths and injuries. Nationwide, this campaign has saved 381 lives.
- We have installed over 15,000 free smoke alarms in neighborhoods throughout Orange County since the program launch in 2014.

VOLUNTEER OPPORTUNITIES

The Red Cross relies on volunteers to help us with our mission of providing care and comfort to those in need. There are endless volunteer opportunities with the American Red Cross Serving Orange County. From becoming a disaster relief volunteer, to assisting military service members and their families with Service to the Armed Forces, to providing lifesaving health and safety training to community members, there’s something for everyone. Volunteers carry out over 90% of the humanitarian work of the Red Cross. Our volunteers come from all walks of life, but share a singular passion for helping those in need.

There are opportunities for every interest, level of experience, and schedule. The vital work of the Red Cross is made possible by our volunteers, a nationwide network of neighbors helping neighbors.

Visit redcross.org/volunteer for more information.

GIVING OPPORTUNITIES

Your donation powers the Red Cross response to nearly 64,000 disasters a year nationwide, providing shelter, food, emotional support and other necessities to those affected. When a family is struck by disaster and displaced, they may lose nearly everything they own. By making a charitable donation to the Red Cross, you are there for millions of people who face emergencies every year and help as they rebuild their lives. Everything we do depends on the needs of the people that we serve and we could not be there without generous donations from the American public. Our network of generous donors, volunteers and employees share a mission of preventing and relieving suffering, here at home and around the world.

VOLUNTEER OPPORTUNITIES

Our Club believes that, through the collective impact of our entire community, we can affect greater change and outcomes in the lives of those we serve. And it starts with just showing up! We offer a unique opportunity for corporate partners to give back through our Mentor Days where groups of 5-20 volunteers can interact directly with the Club kids, experience the programs first-hand, and witness the impact their time and talent make. Mentor Days allow flexibility in scheduling and provide an afternoon (typically two to three hours) of meaningful interaction. We also have opportunities for those looking for a longer-term commitment.

GIVING OPPORTUNITIES

We offer a variety of programs and opportunities for supporters to get involved at our Clubs. To find opportunities that might be meaningful for you, we like to showcase our programs with a personalized Club tour. Call us to book yours today!

Be the reason she thrives.

We can tell you a lot of good reasons to invest in Children’s Bureau. Here are three:

1. Children are at risk
   A report of child abuse is made every 10 seconds.

2. We know how to help
   For 114 years, Children’s Bureau continues to lead efforts in protecting vulnerable children through prevention, treatment and advocacy.

3. Prevention makes good economic sense
   For every $1 invested in prevention, $4-$9 is saved in future public spending.

We are Connelly girls. We lead, serve and inspire.

We have dreams of a bright future. Watch us soar.

This is a compelling time for our school environment. We serve a population of exceptionally bright young women with 100% of our graduates attending college. Connelly Connelly School is a diverse, under-represented population with 73% percent of our students identifying as non-Caucasian and 40% qualifying for and receiving tuition assistance. The average income of our families is below $100,000 per year, and we currently award approximately $500,000 in financial aid. We are a school community that can provide the opportunity to invest in the future of talented and gifted young women who may otherwise not be able afford this form of education. There are many ways to invest in the school and the young women. In addition to the well documented benefits of an all girls’ educational environment, the rigorous college preparatory curriculum, and complete athletic programs, our school offers these successful, innovative experiences: Academic Decathlon, Mock Trial, Robotics, Tri-School Theatre, Class Plays, Fine Arts, Choir, Handbells, Renewable Energy Program, Engineering Your World, Global Solidarity Week.

Natalie’s Wish Celebration
Saturday, April 21, 2018 – Island Hotel Newport Beach, CA

The evening of celebration honors the children and adults who are affected by cystinosis and the cystinosis research community for its commitment to the cystinosis families. In 2003, when Natalie Stack was 12 years old, she scribbled her birthday wish on a napkin – to have my disease go away forever. That wish was the catalyst for her parents, Nancy and Geoffrey Stack to form the Cystinosis Research Foundation.

In 2017, Natalie’s Wish Celebration was rated the #1 Charity Fundraising Gala by the Orange County Business Journal, raising $3.5 million for research.

Volunteer Opportunities

One of our greatest assets is our dedicated team of volunteers who are committed to helping make Natalie’s wish become a reality. Our volunteers have been with us since our inception and we wouldn’t be where we are without them. Current volunteer opportunities include helping with the annual Natalie’s Wish Celebration and Day of Hope family conference. Contact zsolsby@cystinosisresearch.org for more information.

Thanks to the generous support of our friends and the entire community, CRF is the largest private fund provider of cystinosis research in the world. Since 2003, we have funded 164 cystinosis research studies in 12 countries around the globe. We are on the path to the cure, but there is still much to be done and we need your help. - Sponsor a fundraising event – various levels of participation available
- Donate via our website www.cystinosisresearch.org

ONE world. ONE hope. ONE step closer to a cure.

Cystinosis is a rare, metabolic disease that slowly destroys the body’s organs, including the kidneys, liver, eyes, muscles, bone marrow, thyroid and brain. There is medication to control some of the symptoms of the disease, but cystinosis remains incurable.

When Nancy and Jeff Stack established the Cystinosis Research Foundation in 2003 they were committed to finding a cure. Never did they imagine that in just 15 years CRF would become the largest fund provider of cystinosis research in the world. With the help of dedicated champions and community members, CRF has raised $40 million dollars for cystinosis research and issued 164 grants in 12 countries.

Every day CRF-funded researchers and scientists work diligently to find better treatments and a cure for cystinosis. CRF is on the road to beat cystinosis and we need your help now more than ever.

POWERED BY GIRL SCOUTS

“Girl Scouts has given me the tools to solve problems and make a positive difference in the world!”

Sharleen has always been curious about STEM. Girl Scouts gave her a home to explore science, technology, engineering, and math in the world around her. For her Girl Scout Gold Award, Sharleen founded the nonprofit STEMup4Youth, recruiting 200 teen volunteers to bring fun, hands-on STEM activities to kids at 31 schools across Southern California. STEMup4Youth has expanded to 15 local chapters benefitting over 10,000 children. Sharleen was recognized last year by Girl Scouts of the USA as one of 10 National Young Women of Distinction for her extraordinary leadership that will continue to benefit Orange County’s youth for years to come.

At Girl Scouts, we know that when given the opportunity, girls change the world. When you support Girl Scouts as a volunteer or donor, you help more than 20,000 Orange County girls gain the skills and confidence to live their best lives and make the world a better place.

INSPIRING ALL GIRLS TO BE STRONG, SMART, AND BOLD.

Girls Inc. of Orange County has been a respected member of the non-profit community for over 60 years. The mission of Girls Inc. is to inspire all girls to be strong, smart, and bold. We put our mission into practice through the Girls Inc. experience that equips girls to navigate gender, economic, and social barriers and grow up to be healthy, educated and independent adults.

THE NEED TODAY

GIRLS

In Orange County, there are 275,940 girls. Regardless of cultural, racial, and socio-economic backgrounds, they face universal barriers to equality and success in life:

1 in 4 do not finish high school
45% of girls say that they are told to downplay their strength
Only 60% of U.S. college women graduate

CALIFORNIA AND THE ORANGE COUNTY COMMUNITY

Community Cost
High school student drop out costs California an estimated $46 billion annually

Lack of Student Support
For every 1,401 students, there is 1 school counselor in Orange County Schools

Poor Workforce Development
Orange County faces a critical shortage of skilled workers for high-paying jobs in key STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering, and Mathematics), manufacturing, health care and informational technology

Girls Inc. addresses these challenges that Orange County girls face by positively changing the lives of 4,000 girls, kindergarten to 18 years old, each year with year-round holistic, compensatory, and intentional programming focusing on STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering & Math), financial literacy, sound body image, healthy relationships, and college and career readiness.

JOIN US TODAY!

Volunteers play a key role at Girls Inc. of Orange County by making it possible to deliver our programs and resources to the girls we serve. With the support of people like you, we become that much closer to achieving our organization’s mission.

Currently 100% of KidWorks students graduate from high school and enroll in a college or university. KidWorks is now expanding programs to include support of students from Pre-K to B.A. through the newly launched KidWorks College Success Initiative™.
KidWorks is a community organization serving 1,000 children, youth and families in Orange County’s most under-served neighborhoods. Each year 100% of our high school seniors graduate on time and 100% go on to attend college or university. However, statistically 89% of first generation college students nationwide leave without earning a degree.

With the launch of our new KidWorks College Success Initiative™ we now serve students from Pre-K to B.A., making an 18 year commitment to each student at KidWorks to ensure academic success.

With the support of partners, like Mechanics Bank, we are touching lives with hope and developing the next generation of community leaders. And now, thanks to a generous challenge grant from David A. Pyle, the first $1,000,000 of donations to our KidWorks College Success Initiative will be matched, dollar for dollar.

Candidates who raise more than $50K are able to name an LLS research grant in someone’s honor or memory.

DID YOU KNOW?

On average, nonprofits devote about 2% of their annual budgets to professional development.

Nonprofits, like any business, face a slew of challenges but one stands out above the rest: PREPARING THE NEXT GENERATION OF NONPROFIT PROFESSIONALS.

Businesses can support their favorite nonprofit by underwriting an ENTIRE YEAR of trainings, providing access to 200+ professional development opportunities for their whole staff!

OneOC is a treasure chest of training opportunities that we urgently need...OneOC’s broad menu of training opportunities would have a profound impact on our plans.

- Five-Year Pledge – a multi-year pledge helps us plan for the future
- Harvest Club Monthly Giving – sign up for recurring donations

GIVING OPPORTUNITIES
For a dollar, you can give her breakfast, lunch and dinner.

Not to mention a childhood.

It’s nearly impossible to learn and play when you’re hungry. And one in six of our children are going hungry because their parents are struggling to pay Orange County’s rising rents. Second Harvest provided the equivalent of 21.6 million meals last year. Thanks to our dedicated volunteers and generous donors like you, almost 94 cents of every dollar we spend goes directly to programs that feed the hungry.

Yet, we still aren’t reaching all the people who need us. Please help us fill that gap, to reach our Bold Goal: Making sure no one in Orange County goes to bed hungry. Ever. Donate today at FeedOC.org or call 949-208-3188.

Preventing hunger and homelessness by helping people help themselves.

Since 1989, South County Outreach has served people in need and households in crisis. We serve homeless families, the underemployed, unemployed, seniors, veterans and other at-risk residents of South Orange County. Many of our clients struggle to make a living earning minimum wage. We work to keep people safely housed and fed, serving 6,000 local people each year through 54,000 services.

END HUNGER. HOUSE HOPE.

Your sponsorship greatly impacts the lives of many students in our Catholic schools who will directly benefit from your generosity today and in the future as they become our future business, community, and spiritual leaders.
Children who attend Catholic schools receive an excellent education rooted in the gospel values of Jesus Christ and the doctrine of the Catholic Church. It is also heartening to know that many of these students are 42% more likely to graduate from high school than their public school counterparts and 2.5 times more likely to graduate college.

GUARDIAN OPPORTUNITIES

UCP-OC offers an array of volunteer opportunities including supporting special events, recreation programs or assisting in our pediatric therapy center. Some opportunities require training, while others are short-term and simply benefit from helping hands.

To learn more about UCP-OC volunteer opportunities, please visit www.ucpoc.org/volunteer.

GOALS FOR 2018

▶ Engage community in philanthropic endeavors to improve the lives of children with disabilities.
▶ Reduce the waitlist for our services. There are currently 300 children waiting for our life-changing services.
▶ Celebrate our 65th year serving Orange County families. You can celebrate with us at the Annual Life Without Limits Gala on May 5, 2018.

Underwritten by:

loanDepot employees showing their support of UCP-OC at last year’s gala.
“UCP-OC has given Mandy a solid foundation to help her not just survive, but THRIVE! When you work together as a team with UCP-OC, you are investing in a lifetime of positive change in your child no matter what the diagnosis.”
- Natalie, Mandy’s mom

Mandy’s parents were told that their beautiful daughter may never speak. Thanks to hard work with her therapists, today, Mandy’s favorite thing to do is sing karaoke!

Unfortunately, there are more than 300 children on the waitlist for UCP-OC’s services at any given time. The weeks or months they have to wait are a tragic loss of precious developmental time, as the first five years of a child’s life are crucial to their long-term development.

Just $5,000 will allow UCP-OC to move a child off the waitlist and provide them with a year of weekly services. Your donation of any size will help children with disabilities reach their full potential.

To donate, visit our website at ucpc.org/mandy.

IN SIX MONTHS, I WILL BE JOBLESS, HOMELESS... AND HOPELESS.

IT’S A SAD REALITY.

He faced enemy threats abroad and now he faces a new threat. Over 30% of veterans ages 18 to 24 are unemployed, and nearly 1,500 veterans are homeless right here in Orange County.

THERE IS HOPE!

VetNet, a veterans’ safety net and division of Working Wardrobes, is creating a new reality for veterans. Our mission is to provide veterans from all branches of the military with the tools they need to find meaningful employment. Case management. Career readiness training. Life skills and goal setting workshops. Career coaching. IT training from Fundamentals to Cybersecurity. Presentation skills. Job placement. Image workshops. Professional wardrobe and grooming services, and much more.

Every week, the VetNet team is at Camp Pendleton talking with transitioning Marines and Sailors so we can support their transition. And twice a year, we host full day events for hundreds of active duty service members who will transition out of the military within six months. We provide in-depth career transition services, a Success Suit, and a team of incredibly supportive volunteers.

WE NEED YOUR HELP!

VetNet and the Mazda Corporation are calling on local corporations and business leaders to fight for the veterans who so bravely fought for us.

Please contact us to discuss hiring our job ready vets. Corporate sponsorships and Corporate Social Responsibility opportunities are critical to our success. Please call Freddy Cameron at (714) 210-2460 to discuss how your company can make a difference in our community.

“We believe in thanking our veterans and helping them find meaningful employment at home. It’s a powerful opportunity to offer to the men and women who have served our country. We invite you and your company to join us in this valuable effort.”

Join us for our Stars & Stripes Golf Tournament on September 14th.
